

Stony Brook Market

Stony Brook Market carries the reputation of being “your local neighborhood market” that focusses on serving the community and the convenience of the public.

Our business model is focused around being a business that offers a variety of items including but not limited to milk, eggs, dairy products, prepackages cold cuts, cheeses, groceries, beer, wine, liquor, snacks, soft drinks and tobacco. Our design is distinct in which It reflects the essence of the town that we are in and we pride ourselves with offering a clean store, exceptional customer service, safe and enjoyable shopping experience.

Having been in the retail business for over 25 years, we understand that the success of the business comes from being part of the community, offering excellent customer service, offering a clean store, and from offering products and items that will provide a convenience to the public in which local residents would not have to go to the super market if they need essential groceries and they also would not have to go to a big liquor store to find their favorite liquor, beer or wine. With our beverage specialist and grocery buyers, we provide very interesting quality variety of products and beverages that bring value and quality to Stony Brook Market in the town of Harvard. Our prices are very competitive as we leverage our relationship with vendors. We also focus on selling closeout high value wine for a faction of the price, in addition to carrying beer from micro breweries that are local to Massachusetts and surrounding states.

At Stony Brook Market we understand the value of being in great towns such as Harvard, and we understand that we need to meet and exceed the expectations of its residents. We currently operate in Southborough and in Sudbury, and we must say that we are a big part of these two communities. We offer an exceptional service and participate in the community and its events and causes when ever possible.

We ask the Board of the Town of Harvard to allow us to be part of the town and its community and we promise to be a great reflection of the town and its standards throughout our journey.
